

File → Make a Copy...

It's a simple way to compare what your product offers with the needs of your potential customers.

INSTRUCTIONS:

- ## VALUE PROPOSITION

What satisfactions does the product create for your users? How substantial or insignificant are they? How and when do they occur?

FEATURES

What are the features of your product that help the user complete the desired tasks?

People Search

Shelter communication

Offline-first
Local Network
App:

Boolean Search System

Role-Based Access Control (RBAC)

Cross-Shelter ID Hashing

Automated
Agency
Reporting.

PAIN RELIEVERS

How does the product relieve your users' pains? How does it eliminate or reduce the negative emotions, undesired situations and risks they want to avoid?

Automated Privacy Filters

Resilient Infrastructure

Guided Input Forms

MARKET SEGMENT

GAINS

What benefits do your users expect, what do they desire, or what details would surprise them? These can be social status, positive emotions or cost savings.

JOBS TO BE DONE

What exactly are your users trying to achieve? Which tasks, problems to solve or needs to fulfill?

Zero-training UI

Instant matching

Secure collaboration

Register arrivals quickly

Contact with other shelters

Protect sensitive data

Provide accurate status

Exposure of unwanted data

"I can't find my family"

System Downtime

Incorrect data entry

Lack of training